What frail mortals we be...

I'm very sorry for not being able to say any public Masses last weekend. I slipped and fell, and spent two days on my back - phone calls to NHS111, and visit to MIU, and, well, lots of prayers, cards and cakes from you!

I'm going to do my best this weekend, but I'm not back up to full strength, so please be patient. I'm finding standing for any time difficult.

The Masses I say will involve the least driving, so will be around and about Glastonbury (with Shepton on Sunday morning). If anyone could clear up/lock up in Shepton I'd be grateful.

I will play it by ear, but it is likely that I will just have one reading and a Gospel, I'll see how I feel at the Masses.

For me, this is just a little taster of what some people go through, and I'm fine really in the grand scheme of things, but if you have chronic pain, then my heart and my prayers go out to you. I know this will end (I'm not too good with patience!), but for some this is just a shadow of their daily lives.

Say one for me, that I learn patience!!!
